The above table shows the Front and Back Hooks for the 101 Two-Letter words.

If the resulting Three-Letter word is likely to be unfamiliar to some people, the hook is shown in bolded capital letters. If the hook forms a common word or is a back-S extension to a Two, the hook is shown in small unbolded letters. Eg. consider "gp ABDS AL ABPT els". This indicates that the common words "gal, pal, ale, all, and als" are good as are the less common words: aal, bal, dal, sal, ala, alb, alp, and alt.

Conventions used on this and previous page: 1) Words most likely to be unfamiliar are bolded.

2) An "s" following a word, indicates that it takes a back-S.

3) In a list of say Threes, something like "ABs" indicates that "ABS" is a three-letter word that can be made by back-hooking an "S" to a Two.
